1. Accessing the Microform Collection

There are two ways to access our microform collection. The Microform Directory is an annotated list of all cataloged titles within the Microform Collection and includes, titles in alphabetical order, information on coverage, whether there is an index to the set, and cabinet location of the specific title. You may also consult WILDPAC, the Library's online public access catalog. Our catalog reflects all of the main titles listed within the collection, and provides bibliographic and holdings information. Microform entries within WILDPAC are identified by either a lumic location code for both fiche and film formats, and lumid for an index.

The majority of the collection is arranged by categories and the drawer labels are color coded accordingly. The following chart may prove helpful in locating broad categories of materials. As the collection continues to grow and space is at a premium, some miscellaneous materials in these groupings may be housed in cabinets outside the range listed. Consult the specific titles in this Directory for the location.

Type	Cabinets	Color Code
Federal legislative materials	1-16	light blue
Federal administrative materials	17-23	light blue
Federal judicial materials	24-29, 31	bright medium blue
General state materials	34, 41, 48-59	orange
Massachusetts materials	33, 42-46	cream/pink
Legal periodicals	33, 39-40	pink
Treatises & miscellaneous materials (ALI, uniform laws, Native American materials, etc.)	35, 47-48, 61-62	yellow
International & foreign materials	36	beige
U.S. government documents	37, 38	light blue

2. Using Microforms

When removing a piece of microfiche or a reel of film from a cabinet, please place a "Microfiche-in-Use" card in its spot. Cards are located on top of the cabinets. When you are finished with the fiche or film, DO NOT REPLACE IT! Replace the fiche or film in its envelope or box and deposit it in the trays on top of the cabinets.

3. Assistance

If you need help locating microforms, or how to use microform equipment with microfiche and microfilm contact a Librarian at the Reference Desk or a Circulation staff member.

at stack 232 B (Z 1223 A12). Also on CD-ROM (January 2000, CD#7009), which is available on RESERVE. The Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications is also available via the Internet (1994+) at www.access.gpo.gov . Since congressional documents, including Senate and House bills are government publications, the Monthly Catalog duplicates the efforts of the particular finding aids that are available with other sets. However, since the Law Library receives many government publications in hard copy as well as in the microform, a search for hard copy materials begun in the Monthly Catalog can also lead the user to microform materials. The Monthly Catalog has annual indexes by title, author, and subject. The index will provide a Superintendent of Documents number. With this number, the user goes to the appropriate issue of the Monthly Catalog, arranged by number, for the bibliographic information and a brief description of the document. WILDPAC should be consulted to ascertain whether the Library holds that item. For some additional government publications not filed in this cabinet see:

American Foreign Policy Current Documents
Congressional Record
Equal Employment Opportunity Commission Case Decisions
Foreign Relations of the United States
United States Congress Public Bills and Resolutions.

Note also: Materials are also available in print, CD-ROM and Internet.
