Alumni Speakers: An Invaluable Resource for Students

Alumni speakers are an important part of the personal attention that students receive in their Western New England University education. Some alumni speakers give presentations at their companies or organizations, but most visit the students’ classrooms or participate in on-campus career panel discussions. These talks offer students a clear idea of what to expect of a career in a particular field through authentic firsthand accounts. Faculty members coordinate their classes with individual alumni to allow students a glimpse of the working world from the vantage point of the classroom.
