The method used to determine which students receive Emergency Financial Aid Grants and how much they would receive under Section 18004(a)(1) of the CARES Act is an application request process. Students who had unanticipated costs related to the disruption of campus as a result of COVID-19 and were current students in the spring 2020 semester can apply by emailing their application to WNECARES@wne.edu. All applications are reviewed and awarded to ensure compliance with the CARES Act. There are no minimums or maximum awards.

The following is what we informed our students which is posted on the University's COVID-19 web page and was emailed to all students:

The Coronavirus Aid, Relief and Economic Security (CARES) Act, which was passed by Congress and signed into law in March, provides for Higher Education Emergency Relief Fund (HEERF) grants to students for their expenses related to the disruption of campus operations due to coronavirus, such as food, housing, course materials, technology, health care, and child-care expenses. Western New England University's portion of the CARES Act for student emergency grant aid is $1,342,302.

We recognize that many of our students have incurred expenses because of the pandemic. Our goal is to get this money into the hands of our students as quickly as possible to help alleviate financial stress brought about by the pandemic.

The University will award the student emergency relief grant aid using an application request process. Students eligible for these funds must be an enrolled student in the spring 2020 semester; students enrolled in an exclusively on-line only program (LLM or MFA) before March 13 are not eligible for these grants. We urge students to apply for these funds if they have incurred any eligible expenses. You may find the COVID-19 Emergency Grant Request application and related instructions <https://www1.wne.edu/coronavirus/cares-act.cfm>. To qualify for CARES Act HEERF student grant aid, students must be eligible for federal aid. To ensure eligibility students should have a 2019-2020 Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) on file, if not please file the 2020-21 FAFSA at studentaid.gov.
